

This Toolkit provides the training used successfully to teach supervisors to balance family needs with workplace productivity in ways that have improved commitment to the organization and employee self-reported health. Applicability across industries is supported by pictures.

Select payment by credit card below, or click on individual items for other purchase options (check, PO, bank transfer).

Consultation and training modification options are available at checkout.

Learn more about the research study by reading a summary and description of the Work-Family Balance Intervention toolkit and by reading the original research article (the journal charges for this download), named one of 2011's 6 best science articles on Work-Family Relationships by the Purdue Center for Families, Rosabeth Moss Kanter award. To learn more about the training, click FSST Training Tool to download a PowerPoint presentation developed by Dr. Leslie Hammer describing the Work-Family Balance intervention.